CATCHING UP EUROPE - ACCELERATING INNOVATION IN ROMANIA

According to the European Innovation Scoreboard 2019 published in June 2019 by the European Commission, there is a big gap in innovation between Eastern Europe and the rest of it with Romania ranking last from this point of view.

Periods of massive change are a great opportunity for newcomers, and now we are going through a period of great changes and we need to identify the right strategies and tools for seizing these opportunities. Technological innovation might be one of the most important solutions to getting out of the tail of the index of the digital economy and society at European Union level. But technological innovation cannot be local, by definition it has to be global, you can only innovate in technology globally.

This October, we invite you at an honest discussion about what it can be done to improve the stand of countries from Eastern Europe on the continent and globally. At InnovX - BCR Open Days we will welcome those that proved that performance can be achieved even when having the least chances.

Join us for an interesting and exciting day full of bold ideas, innovative solutions and ambitious people that wants to prove wrong all statistics about Eastern Europe and Romania!
